

Cal Ozaki and his family have enjoyed living and being a part of the Idaho Falls community for the past 32 years. Cal recently retired (May 2019) as the Idaho National Laboratory Director of Public Affairs, which culminated a diverse 40-year career that included leadership positions at three Department of Energy national laboratories (Idaho National Laboratory, Argonne National Laboratory-West, and Lawrence Livermore National laboratory). Responsibilities included program, project and line management leadership experience in nuclear and waste management operations, infrastructure and campus master planning, community outreach, public affairs, K-12 STEM education, and business development.

Cal is actively involved in the community, with particular interest in higher education, business, and economic development. He is an inaugural Trustee for College of Eastern Idaho and served on the former Eastern Idaho Technical College (EITC) Executive Advisory Council for 12 years. He has also participated in community delegation exchanges with the Idaho Falls – Tokai Mura Japanese Sister City Program for the past 25 years. Cal previously served as the Chairman of the Board for the Greater Idaho Falls Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Directors for the Eastern Idaho Economic Development Council (EIEDC), the Board of Directors of the United Way, and Idaho Falls Higher Education Advisory Council. Additionally, he has served as a volunteer member of the National Ski Patrol at Grand Targhee Resort.

Cal earned bachelor's degrees in biology and chemistry from the University of California at Irvine, and a master's degree in radiological health from Oregon State University. He has also completed executive leadership programs at Northeastern University in Boston and the International Institute for Management Development in Lausanne, Switzerland

Cal and Cindy have been married for 40 years and have two daughters, Kimberly and Kristen. They enjoy family-centered activities such as downhill and cross-country skiing, camping, fishing, golfing, photography, and travel.
