Early College Distance Learning Program

Take CEI classes by Zoom during the school day at your high school!

Here's how it works:

- Classes are available by Zoom from 7:30am-3pm.
- Classes are considered "Concurrent Enrollment" meaning they are taught by CEI faculty, run on the college schedule, follow campus deadlines, and early college students will be mixed with adult students taking the same course(s).
- 15 seats will be set aside in each class for high school students. Registration will be first-come-first-serve, and will have a waitlist once filled.
- Courses are recorded on a permanent college transcript.
- Students will need the following to participate:
 - Individual computer with camera and microphone.
 - A designated place at their high school to participate in the class. These classes are built inside the school day so students can access them using high school internet.
- Eligibility rules (applies to all Concurrent Enrollment classes taught by CEI faculty)
 - 16 years old by the first day of class
 - 2.7 cumulative high school GPA recommended (3.0 preferred)
 - Prerequisites for individual courses as required
- Cost
 - Tuition: $75 per credit (Advanced Opportunities Eligible)
 - Student Fees: Student responsibility, $15 per semester (plus lab fees if applicable by course)
 - Books: student responsibility, varies depending on course
 - Out of District Fee: when applicable, this fee is processed through Advanced Opportunities.

How to sign up: All directions, links and forms are available at <https://www.cei.edu/early-college>

First, talk to your high school counselor about which classes meet your academic goals and fit into your schedule. Once you decide on classes, follow these steps:

- Step 1: Get Admitted to CEI (only required the first time a student takes a class from CEI)
- Step 2: Submit a Registration Request Form with all signatures to ecp@cei.edu
 - Remember this form is required each term/semester you take classes from CEI.
 - Use section numbers provided on Distance Learning schedule
i.e. course COMM 101-02CE (the section is 02CE)
 - New students are required to complete an online orientation the first time they register
- Step 3: Apply for Advanced Opportunity funding
- Step 4: Pay student fees and buy books
- Step 5: Work hard, participate in class, and SUCCEED!

Tips: If you're feeling ambitious and want to work on a GEM certificate or associate degree, you should make an appointment with a CEI Early College Advisor. Go to www.cei.edu/high-school to schedule an appointment.

Remember, these classes have firm deadlines and run completely on the CEI campus schedule. It is your responsibility to meet deadlines. If you have any questions, just let us know. We are here to help!

Admission/Enrollment: Becoming a student with CEI Registration: Registering for classes

Advanced Opportunities Portal: Used to submit funding requests for tuition to be paid by the State.

Fees: Charges assessed to student accounts. AO does not pay fees, they are the student's responsibility. Fees are $15 per semester plus lab fees if student is taking a specific class with a lab.

Drop Deadline: Last day a student can drop a class and have the class deleted from their college transcript. 100% tuition refund is applied to the student account. Fees are non-refundable after the first day of class.

Withdraw Deadlines: Students who withdraw from classes could be eligible for a partial refund depending on the date they withdraw. Withdrawn classes result in a "W" grade on the CEI transcript but are not factored into the CEI GPA. "W" is considered an unsuccessful attempt with Advanced Opportunities. If a student uses AO to pay their tuition for an unsuccessful attempt (withdraw or fail), they can choose to self-pay for the unsuccessful attempt or the next attempt. If they choose to pay for the next attempt, a flag will be placed on their Advanced Opportunities account and they will not be eligible to use AO funds until they pay for and pass their next attempt. AO does not pay for repeated courses or exams.
