

Jennifer Lopez has accepted the WTCE Program Manager of Cyber, Technology, and STEM position at College of Eastern Idaho (CEI).

Over the last decade, Jennifer Lopez has had the pleasure of accompanying her husband as he has diligently served in the United States Navy; she volunteered for military associations. Jennifer has received her Bachelor's in Sociology and with a minor in Psychology from Brandman University. She is currently pursuing her MBA in Business Intelligence and Data Analytics at Idaho State University.

Jennifer began her career in education as the Special Project Coordinator at College of Eastern Idaho. Jennifer has developed and enhanced existing and new programs, research initiatives related to computer, technology, and cybersecurity, and has assisted with the facilitation of current and new K-12 STEM opportunities.

CEI is confident that she will continue to be a valuable asset and leader at our growing community college.